... fake news, basically. Your call may be monitored or recorded for quality assurance. Or whatever it is. I don't, whatever they're trying to sell, I ain't buying it, but I don't even know- Thank you for calling Benefits in a Card. This is definitely not gonna help your day. Hey, what company are you anyways? Uh, Benefits in a Card, we're the benefit administrators for staffing agencies. No, what I'm saying, is what insurance is, is like, what, what insurance company are you? Are you like, State Farm, what are you? Uh, well our insurance carrier that we're through is through American Public Life. We're not an actual- Ah, okay. ... insurance carrier. I'm just saying because every time I get paid, they take money out for Medicare or whatever anyways, so, uh, why would I have to pay anything extra? Now, Medicare and Medicaid, that's state taxes. Um, so I would reach out to- Yeah. Well I'm paying taxes for my health insurance, so why would I have to pay you any, any more than what I'm already paying? Um, so the benefits offered through Morales are totally up to you, they're voluntary. Um, d- it's not required that you have to take them, so it's totally up to you. I don't really wanna pay them anything, I'm trying to make money, you know. What, why would I wanna pay them? I totally understand that- They're supposed to help me. ... Michael, but I've already opted you out of the benefits, you wanted to opt out, so you've been opted out. No, I'm just confused like, why would you do like, not only, looks like you're trying to take advantage of my money or something. No, sir. Um, Morales sent out-
